

Delta Epsilon Chi, the college division of DECA

More than 13,000 students from 200 campuses across North America are members of Delta Epsilon Chi. Our membership consists of students enrolled in marketing, management, entrepreneurship, or other business related fields; at community colleges, technical colleges, four-year colleges and universities.

Delta Epsilon Chi enhances our student's college experience by providing recognition and leadership activities directly related to classroom curriculum. Our members are at various stages in their educational lives, enabling them to fit into a variety of employment stages.

Delta Epsilon Chi members may be:

1. Full-time students right out of high school
2. Experienced workers returning to school to change careers, upgrade skills or start a career after raising children
3. Working full or part-time while going to school
4. Working on an Associate Degree with plans to move on to a four-year college or university.
