RE: Judge Recruitment for ICDC

The success of the International Career Development Conferences largely depends on the recruitment of over 1,000 business people to serve as competitive events judges.

Enclosed is an informational sheet on judging at the International CDC and a competitive events schedule with sign-up form. California DECA is already approaching the Anaheim area and the surrounding communities; however, we need your assistance to reach our goal.

Many state/provincial associations and chapters bring local business people, parents and administrators to the International Career Development Conferences. One great way for them to experience the unique atmosphere of the conference is by serving as a judge for the competitive events program. Please distribute the attached materials (all may be photocopied) to individuals attending the International conferences and encourage them to participate as judges. Once their participation is confirmed, please forward the forms to DECA Inc. prior to the conferences. We will follow-up to those individuals with additional information leading up to the conferences.

Thank you for your assistance. Please feel free to contact me if you need additional judge materials or have any questions or concerns at (703) 860-5000 or shane\_thomas@deca.org.
